WOMAN SEES IT

The prisoners at Sing Sing publish a widely known monthly magazine called the "Star of Hope," to which prisoners in all the other New York penal institutions contribute. The magazine aims to "encourage intellectual and moral improvement among its institutional constituency, and to acquaint the public with their true status."

Hope indeed shines like a star in some of the prisons of New York, and it gives a sense of advancing civilization to read this prison magazine, entirely written, edited and published by men we thought we had to lock up behind iron bars for our own protection.

You read that in Auburn they have a new bandroom where the members of the brass band go every day except Sunday for practice. They had a lot of fun one night recently, when a vaudeville company gave the Mutual Welfare League an entertainment.

They have baseball in all the men's prisons, of course, and the prisoners have been impatiently waiting for spring. They have classes in shorthand, correspondence school courses, a hundred means of improvement and recreation. They are trying in ways too many to catalogue to make the prisoners forget past errors and begin life all over again.

But turn to the report from the New York state prison for women. Here is a list of activities recorded, and which the reader may compare with the baseball, correspondence courses of study, shorthand, music, and vaudeville in the men's prisons:

On March 18, at the state prison for women, we had general confession, and on the next day we had a Protestant service, with sacred music played on a cornet. On Wednesday Lent began, and Father Doran gave us a talk on bearing the cross.

"On March 13, a Monday, we had a visit from some strange clergy, one of whom spoke impressively on the subject of our last hour, and pointed out the danger of dying when not in a state of grace. And so on through the month. The nearest approach to an entertainment we had, we desperate women criminals, was the Tuskegee singers in hymns and negro melodies, and a talk on Cuba, in the course of which a young lady sang "Let the Lower Lights be Burning" in Spanish.

It is a man's world, even in prison. The question, "Am I my brother's keeper?" is one that is being very carefully considered these days. When the question is quite settled—no before, of course—it may be that some one will remember the women's state prison at Auburn, and ask himself, "And my sister's?"

FORGOTTEN REGION RECALLED BY WAR

Once Dotted with Magnificent Cities of Culture and Wealth Geographers Say.

(SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM)

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The reported successful raid of an Italian fleet on the secret submarine bases established by Austria on the northern coast of Africa, just west of Egypt, brings to the attention of the world an almost forgotten province which was once dotted with magnificent cities of culture and wealth. Concerning this region, known in ancient times as Cyrenaica, and corresponding very closely to the modern province of Barca, between Tripoli and Egypt, the National Geographic Society from its headquarters in Washington, has issued the following bulletin:

"Cyrenaica, whose dangerous coast line, devoid of good harbors, is said to have furnished excellent places of concealment for stores of food and fuel needed by Austrian submarines operating in the southeastern end of the Mediterranean, was once the seat of culture of one of the most prosperous Greek colonies of the south. Today this territory, with an area equal to that of Scotland, supports a population of only 250,000, many of whom are nomads.

Settled by Battus.

"Cyrene, capital of the ancient province, is reputed to have been settled by Battus, who, seeking to avoid political strife in the island of Thera, brought a few colonists to the African shore. He chose the site in accordance with a suggestion from the oracle of Delphi, which commended a place 'between waters.' The four springs, which furnished an abundance of pure water, on a prominence ten miles from the seashore, was construed to fit this description, after an earlier choice of a barren island had proved unhappy. "The town took its name from that of a wood nymph who is supposed to have lived in the vicinity, on the slope of verdant hills where today numerous herds of nomads find unsurpassed pasturage.

"For more than five hundred years after its settlement in 631 B. C. Cyrene flourished, but gradually its commerce began to wane under the sway of the Ptolemys, much of its trade being diverted to Alexandria and Carthage. Finally the whole province was bequeathed to Rome by Ptolemy Apion in the year of that empire until the Arab invasion of the seventh century.

"As early as the fourth century, however, historians employed the phrase 'deserted towns' in writing of Cyrene and others of the five cities which originally gave the name of Pentapolis to the region.

Barley Cultivated.

"On these well wooded, amply watered shores of the Mediterranean there was cultivated a variety of barley much prized by the ancients, while fruits and flowers still grow here in great luxuriance, almost on the fringe of the Libyan desert. One of the most famous products of Greek Cyrenaica was the silphium plant, whose reputed marvelous medicinal properties made it a most valuable article of export. No plant grown in this part of the new world today has properties of a nature so remarkable as to identify it as silphium. Its cultivation, therefore, may be regarded as one of the 'lost arts.'

"Among Cyrene's native sons whose names add lustre to the history of the ancient city are Callimachus, the poet, and Aristippus, a pupil of Socrates, who founded the Greek school of philosophy known as Cyrenaics. The Cyrenaic school, a forerunner of Epicureanism, held that pleasure is the highest good.

"and that virtue is that course of conduct which is productive of the greatest enjoyment. "Owing to the anti-Christian activities of the powerful and populous Senussi sect of Arabs, exploration of the ruins of Cyrene and its neighbor cities has not been pursued with great thoroughness. In fact, Turkish officials have, as far as possible, curtailed travel of Europeans in this section of the Ottoman domain. About twelve years ago the site of the ancient capital was visited by a venturesome party of Englishmen who made a hurried excursion, spending a single night amid the dust heaps of departed grandeur, where the only structures that defy the ravages of time are the great tiers of rock tombs. Playing about the lofty Ionic and Doric columns which marked the impressive entrances to these last abodes of the sepulchred great the visitors found the children of fifty squalid nomad families, sole inheritors of a city of a hundred thousand inhabitants."

CANARD PUNCTURED BY SOLONS' FAILURE

Vacancies in the United States Senate Could Not Be Filled by the Governor.

CHARLESTON, May 23.—Failure of the state legislature to enact a law providing for filling vacancies which might occur from this state in the United States Senate punctures one of the campaign canards put forth by those who are opposing the candidacy of Judge Ira E. Robinson

Brace Up

Reach Out For Aid—The First Aid is Prima-Cura.

There are a lot of strong people too helpless to reach for aid, when it is right at hand. PRIMA-CURA has materially aided more cases of Rheumatism than any remedy on earth. Mr. Dart of the PRIMA-CURA Company is opening tightly closed rheumatic hands every day in the year—and with nothing but the proper application of PRIMA-CURA. Costs but a quarter to find out for yourself. Most any drug store 25 or 50 cent size—or by parcel post through the West Virginia Distributing Office, The Prima-Cura Company, Parkersburg, W. Va. for governor by their appeals to the prejudice of voters who may not agree with the views on public questions held by Governor Hatfield.

The canard has been started by the Robinson opposition that in case Judge Robinson is elected governor, Senator Nathan Goff will resign from the United States Senate and that Robinson will appoint Governor Hatfield to the vacancy. An investigation proves that the last legislature failed to pass a law providing for filling vacancies, and in case a vacancy should occur the governor could not fill it by appointment but the vacancy would continue until an election could be held.

This story, which is being circulated among those who might have any petty grievance against Governor Hatfield, is intended to prejudice voters against Judge Robinson, and as is the case with the whole campaign being waged against Robinson, it is based on prejudice and founded upon misrepresentation of facts.

Prior to this time the entries closed for the primary the cry was raised that Governor Hatfield would be a candidate for United States senator, notwithstanding the governor's declarations to the contrary. But when the entries closed and Governor Hatfield did not enter, it was necessary for the Robinson opposition to circulate some other falsehood and the resignation of Senator Goff was hit upon. The fact that the governor cannot fill a vacancy in the Senate by appointment shows the ridiculousness of the charge and proves the misrepresentation upon which the

Lilly campaign is being waged. The story of the Goff resignation is as ridiculous as that recently circulated by the Lilly supporters to the effect that if elected governor, Robinson would reappoint Fred O. Blue as state tax commissioner, which was intended to prejudice those opposed to a strict enforcement of the prohibition laws against Judge by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which cannot be cured by local applications. We will give one Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

What is Home Without an Heir!

This is a subject that has a place in all minds in all times. And it naturally directs thought as to the comfort of the mother during that wonderful period of expectancy. Mothers who know recommend "Mother's Friend." It is an external remedy for the stretching muscles, enables them to expand without undue strain, assists the organs, to crowd against nerves, to pull at ligaments to thus avoid pain.

These restless days are assured, peaceful nights are experienced, morning sickness, headache, apprehension and other distresses are among the various things which women everywhere relate they entirely escaped by using "Mother's Friend. And by its effect upon the muscles the form is retained and they return to their natural, smooth contour after baby is born.

This is an interesting and valuable thing to remember. The skin is but a net work of very small blood vessels and connective tissue and by keeping it well lubricated, firm and in strong, vigorous condition it will not get soft. And when the time has passed it will return to its natural shape without the seams and scars that are so liable to be the case if "Mother's Friend" is not used. Get a bottle of this invaluable aid to expectant mothers. Any druggist will supply you. It is harmless but wonderfully effective. Write to Bradford, Regulator Co., 715 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a specially written guide book for women interested in the subject of maternity. It will prove an inspiration. It contains information that every woman should know all about. Write today.

Robinson's candidacy. An examination of the law proved that the term of office of Mr. Blue will expire during the term of the present governor and that the state tax commissioner is not eligible to reappointment. Mr. Blue has announced that he will retire to the practice of law at the expiration of his term of office.

Both the story as to the resignation of Senator Goff and that relative to the tax commissioner were intended to appeal to prejudice, and disclose the extent to which the Lilly leaders will misrepresent facts in an attempt to gather support to their declining cause.
